Girl of the Week.

Quita, who stands 5ft. 4in. and weighs 127 lbs., is very active and athletic, and enjoys running and cycling. For entertainment she likes movies and dancing. She is also fond of reading, embroidery and housework and is quite a handy girl at home.

Like most girls who have come from elsewhere to Aruba, she is fond of travelling, since her first and only taste of the trip from St. Vincent, and is hoping to do more of it in the future.

Quita is employed as a clerk at the Panama Store, and finds it interesting serving her customers and observing their buying habits.

Cupid? Sorry, no information on this point.

Welcome to our Boys

Aruba's baseball players who represented us at the 13th. Amateur World Baseball series in Cuba, are scheduled to arrive here tonight, Saturday September 20th. at 6.30 o'clock.

It would not be appropriate for THE LOCAL not to extend a very special word of welcome and thanks to these worthy ambassadors for their accomplishments in Cuba.

True, they have returned with the touch of defeat on the ball field still fresh in their memory, having lost 4 of their 6 played matches and winning only two. Then why our congratulations?

Our congratulations in the first place for accomplishing a feat no one believed possible at the time our boys left. The feat of taking two victories from teams which are years ahead of Aruba in practising this sport, El Salvador and Honduras.

Congratulations for putting up stiff competition against top rated teams participating in the series and losing to these only by the narrowest of margins (Nicaragua-Aruba 3-2; Mexico-Aruba 4-3) and even holding a lead over Mexico up to the 9th inning.

Congratulations for setting records in the series which compels Aruba's mention on the honor list and, last but not least...

Congratulations for their fine conduct and sportmanship throughout the competition. Conduct and behaviour which have marked our little island and its inhabitants as friendly, kind and courageous people.

Small Aruba has earned a great name among our neighbors and, as was the case in Finland, the hearts of thousands of fans in Cuba were left beating warmly for their good neighbor, Aruba.

For this accomplishment, which is so tremendous in magnitude that the results of the matches become insignificant, Aruba owes the ABBA team a great deal of gratitude and we know that we speak for all Aruba when we extend our thanks to the ABBA, manager Proterra, trainer Martinez and above all, the players.

With keen interest all Aruba has followed the matches played by our boys which at times went until late at night. No matter what the final score, whether it meant defeat or victory for Aruba the radio listeners retired to their beds with satisfaction. The feeling was always there that our boys had done something. It was good to hear the announcer speak of Nel Harms as a great player who could fit in any team any day. To hear his enthusiasm in announcing Rueben Philips' 17 punch-outs records in the tournament. To hear mention made of fine plays by several other Aruba boys and to hear him say that this "novice" team in the ball game is dangerous throughout and should be watched.

It was good also to hear that Nel Harm's performance was so impressive that he was offered a contract to play professional ball with the Washington Senators, an offer Nel is giving consideration.

It was also good to hear of invitations extended to our boys to visit neighboring places. These are the many reasons prompting us to say "congratulations gang, we are proud of you and are glad to have you back with us healthy and well".

PEREZ AND HARMS TO U. S. A.

Late news brought us the message (Friday) that Juan Perez and Nel Harms will travel to the U.S.A. from Cuba. This is not in connection with contracts to play professional Ball. The boys are on vacation and Nel goes to Miami for an operation (throat) while Perez will spend his time seeing the world series.

In connection with Nel's offer from the Senators we understand that he is giving the matter serious consideration but has as yet taken no decision. It is being whispered that an offer may also be forthcoming from the N. Y. Giants

MULTUM IN PARVO.

CYCLING FACILITIES:

A few years ago the Employees Advisory Committee (now defunct) requested that cyclists be permitted to use their cycles throughout the refinery. Management at that time stated that due to heavy refinery traffic, a safety hazard would have been created if cyclists were allowed to use all roads in the refinery. The E.A.C. agreed with the management's view; however, subsequently cyclists were allowed to use the back road where traffic was not to heavy.

With the recent completion of the Industrial Relations Annex at the main Gate another gate was built and it is felt that employees who ride cycles to work may very well be allowed to ride through this gate without creating a safety hazard. At present they must leave their cycles in the sun at the Main Gate.

It is hoped that management would explore the possibilities of opening this gate to the many cyclists who would appreciate being allowed to ride to work through the new gate.

A STATISTICAL VIEW OF LAGO DURING 1951.

Total annual imports of crude oil in 1951 (expressed in barrels) were 157,312,048 (in 1950 — 150,025,478), total imports per day in 1951 were 430,992 barrels, against 411,029 in 1950. A total of 431,174 barrels of crude oil per day were processed in 1951, against 405,911 in 1950, representing an increase of 25,263 barrels. The total preliminary production figure for the year 1951 was 158,006,000 barrels, the greatest portion thereof being heavy fuel oil, representing 96,710,000 barrels, followed by motor gasoline totaling 24,920,000 barrels. The production of sulphuric acid totaled 29,000 barrels, while asphalt produced totaled 79,000 barrels.

The processing of this increased quantity of crude oil was made possible only by considerable capital investments during recent years. Production was maintained at 2/3 of the normal figure for the duration of the strike. The total number of employees as of December 31, 1951 was 7,167 as compared with 7,189 in 1950. Of these 7,167

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED IN DEATH OF MRS. MEZAS.

Somewhat recovered from the first shock that the death of Mrs. Mezas of Lagoville recently brought her family, and as a result of several occurrences, her children are now wondering whether Mrs. Mezas died as a result of a murderous attack.

Some time ago, the family claims, a letter was written to Mr. Mezas, who is employed in Curacao, in which the writer among other things claimed that she would be glad if something happened to the deceased. The letter was signed.

Mr. Mezas, the recipient, forwarded the letter to his wife in Aruba for her perusal and the document was in the possession of the lady at the time of her death, but a search for same later on proved futile. It had disappeared. It is not known whether she destroyed it, whether it was stolen, or just misplaced.

On the night of the accident (or attack) which led to the lady's death, it seems she was in the bathroom taking a shower.

Apparently she was alarmed by something or someone since an examination of the house later revealed wet imprints of feet on the floor leading from the bathroom to the door leading to the yard. When her body was later discovered, it was found that she had just slipped on part of her garments and gone out to the yard. This, and the helter-skelter appearance of things as well as fact that she was barefeet, gave the impression of a hurried exit.

With her in the house at the time were only her three grand-children which were all sound asleep. Her daughter was visiting her back yard neighbors and apparently she went to the fence to call this daughter.

Mrs. Mezas' body was found in the vicinity of the back yard fence.

First examination by the doctor revealed that she was unconscious and had a cut on her forehead, and it was believed that she had struck her forehead as a result of the fall.

Later at the hospital an X-ray picture of the skull revealed that she also had suffered a blow on the head in the neck region, and it is this second injury which led her family to believe that something was not altogether "natural" about her "accident".

This belief gained more ground when, shortly after regaining consciousness the deceased asked the doctor if someone had hit her. The doctor could not answer that question and advised her to go to rest. She never was strong enough thereafter to tell her story if she ever had one.

Funny incident was that shortly after the funeral, the writer of the missing letter was seen leaving the yard of the Mezas family late at night.

The alarmed family has reported the matter to the police.

It is sincerely hoped that a thorough investigation will be made in the matter for, while the family hopes that their suspicions are without ground and that the mother of the family actually died of an accident, they hate to live in that belief that this was not so.

BOXING

ARUBA BOXING NEWS.

This week promotor J. Eusebio Croes received a cable from Wilfredo Miro who was scheduled to meet Bull Gilkes here in Aruba some time next week. The cable read:

"Cut over eye promotor holds passport Can't come Two fights here Fight later".

This meant that Miro's fight here against Bull Gilkes can be written off the record for the time being. Miro has to live up to his 2-fights contract in B. G., and cannot have the second fight in a hurry because of a cut over his eye.

Meanwhile, Bull Gilkes has been going through his training chores regularly, awaiting the arrival of his opponent and is in fine shape.

Promotor Croes is now endeavoring to match the Bull with either Calvin Garraway of B. G. or with Venezuela's Jose Alberto Diaz. The winner would then get a crack at Miro at a later date.

Boxing fans will, no doubt, agree that any and all of the above matches are well worth seeing. As soon as more pertinent data on developments is available, THE LOCAL will carry the news.

bearings which are essential to this country not so much for watches as for time fuses in shells and for instruments in aircraft and navy ships. Although jewel bearings at present can be imported at less than half the price of what it will cost to have them manufactured here, the government in order to be prepared for any emergency has now embarked on a $500,000 project to establish a permanent jewel bearing industry in this country. In the search for craftsmen who might be diverted to this new defense industry it was found that the Chippewa Indians who have not yet been industrially employed possess the exceptional manual dexterity and sense of precision required for this type of highly specialized skill. Some 70 Chippewa Indian who have since passed individual aptitude tests will after a year's training become instructors themselves boosting the pool of Indians trained in the manufacture of jewel bearings to 350. They will be able to turn out almost 10 million jewel bearings annually in a plant now being built in Rolla, North Dakota. The Indians will draw $35 weekly from the start of their training program.

NATURAL RUBBER SOURCE IN U. S.

Albany, California (Vaz Dias) Ruber, extracted from the California grown guayule brush and tested in heavy truck tires is matching imported Hevea rubber in quality, if not in quantity. The United States began experimenting with domestic natural rubber production during World War II when most imports were cut off. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the guayule project which after a postwar lull was renewed in 1947, has now reached a state of perfection which makes it suitable for use in heavy tires. Researchers who blamed the formerly inferior quality of Californian rubber on the practice of storing the brush before processing, now apply a method of treating the freshly harvested guayule, removing fiber and resin and preventing oxidation before storage. Test tires have been successfully tried out and more are under scrutiny in a fleet of trucks rolling on tires of home grown rubber.

STILL MORE SELF-SERVICE STORES

New York (Vaz Dias) - Self-service stores are obviously here to stay, not only in grocery but in other lines as well. The overwhelming success of this new method of merchandising through the United States has induced two large 5 & 10 chain stores to try it out too. The F. W. Woolworth Company has opened a self-service store in New York where all but a few departments will be operated on a "self-selection" and "self-service" basis with checkout counters placed near the exit for payment and wrapping. S.S. Kresge Company, which operates 690 stores, is building a giant self-service center in Princetown.

Sao Paulo is the biggest industrial centre of Latin America, which entertains close connections with trade and shipping circles all over the continents.

The jubilee exhibition in the Ibarapuera Park, spread over an area of over 1½ million square meters, will form the central attraction. There Brazilian and foreign participants, for whom special paviljons will be erected, will be able to show the products of their respective countries.

Architect Oscar Niemeyer has created a monumental and ingenious balustrade and gallery in ultra modern style, which will form the entrance to the exhibi-

Stockholm (Vaz Dias) - The Swedish surgeon Elis Stenberg, who has developed a new remedy against cancer, the thymus extract THX, has been invited to continue his researches at U.S. laboratories, and is leaving Sweden for that country in the middle of September. THX is claimed to be the first biological cancer cure and to be specially potent against leukemia, a generally fatal form of the disease. 85 per cent of the patients treated have benefitted by the remedy.

SCOTLAND.

Last week, Dr. Elizabeth Forbes-Sempill, in an advertisement in the "Aberdeen Press and Journal", informed the general public that all legal formalities have been completed for a change in her sex, and that in the future she will carry the name of Dr. Ewan Forbes-Sempill.

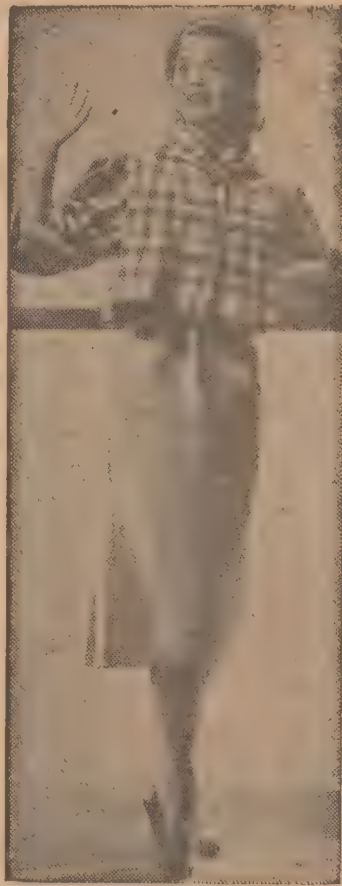

The doctor, who is very masculine in appearance, explained that for the past forty years her life has been unendurable since biologically and socially she has been living the life of a man. After examining the evidence submitted, the District Sheriff granted approval for a change in sex and the doctor is now registered as a male.

In an interview, Dr. Ewan Forbes-Sempill stated that as far back as he could remember, he lived like a boy and wanted to be with the boys. While in his early days he was brought up as a girl, and was schooled as a girl, a change became apparent as years went by. He developed a beard and had to resort to shaving. Since he is a doctor, he recognized what was wrong and underwent medical treatment for several years to establish his masculinity.

The change has been so complete that the Doctor plans to marry in the very near future.

He then attacked India, calling that country, the enemy of South Africa. He charged that India was making use of its position as a go-between the East and West, leading the attack on South Africa's Apartheid policy, and at the same time blackmailing Britain and the U.S.A.

The Premier concluded by stating that the National Party would insist on a republic and no power in the world would stop it. But the republic would have to come along democratic lines and through no revolutionary methods. He proposed to bring this matter to the people in a referendum.

This occasion was seized to impress the Premier with the need for his cooperation and he was shown charts outlining how and where carrier based planes, operating from the Adriatic could strike at any Soviet satellite country attacking Yugoslavia.

EGYPT

General Naguib's Government this week set up five committees to handle the country's foreign policy. At a public meeting, the General asked for six months to carry through his plan to transform the country.

The trials of about sixty persons arrested last week is being speeded up, and landlords who failed to obey the new reforms will be tried before a special military tribunal.

The first landlord to be arrested is Adel Lamlum. He has been charged with defying the authorities.

Britain recently lifted the embargo on the export of equipment to the Egyptian and has declared her willingness to train Egyptian officers in Britain again. This move has been welcomed by the present Army Government.

BRITISH WEST INDIAN ASSOCIATION HOLDS OPEN MEETING.

A number of British West Indians met at the French Club last Thursday night, at the invitation of the Managing Board of the British West Indian Association, to consider the possibilities of expanding the organization.

Spearheading this move and taking the chair at the meeting was Mr. Carl Worrell, Vice-President of the Association.

The British West Indian Association has been in existence for about four years, but has never had a wide membership, since it was the policy of the Board to assure a solid foundation before expansion. This policy has been misunderstood in the past, and the opinion expressed that the Association wanted to be "exclusive." In reality, this was far from the case.

This policy, however, has not proved successful, and an attempt is now being made to rope in ALL British West Indians in Aruba.

At the meeting on Thursday night, Mr. Worrell outlined the primary object of the Association, which in brief is to be an organization that is the center of British West Indian cultural, recreational and social activity in Aruba. To achieve this end, it would be necessary for the Association to have a building of its own, properly equipped for the purpose. The prospect was held out of a membership of 1,000, each person paying a subscription of 1.00 per month. This would mean f 1,000 per month towards such a building. It should not take very long to put a suitable building at this rate.

The idea is not beyond the realm of possibility, and it is hoped that all West Indians present in Aruba will consider the matter favourably and throw in their lot with the Association.

A number of persons present at the meeting spoke from the floor, asking questions for clarification or expressing views and suggestions. Many of those present submitted their names as willing to become members of the Association.

Another meeting is being scheduled for October 9th, when it is planned to present to West Indians the new Consul to Aruba, who is to arrive later this month.

ROSICRUSIANS
COMMEMORATE BUILDING OF GREAT PYRAMID.

On September 23, when the sun on its ecliptical journey crosses the celestial equator for the autumnal equinox, it will commemorate for the Rosicrusians throughout the world the building of the Great Pyramid.

W. Th. Hillman, Master of the local AMORC, Rosicrusian, Aruba, states that Rosicrusians throughout the jurisdiction of the philosophic Order will gather for a ceremony on September 28th, 1952, at which time they will symbolically reenact the building of the Great Pyramid of Cheops.

According to Rosicrusians traditions, states W. Th. Hillman, the pyramid of Cheops, at Gizen, was begun about 4000 B. C., on the occasion of the Fall Equinox. Unlike the other pyramids built during the pyramid age of Egypt, it was not intended as a burial place of a vain Pharaoh who desired a monument of his reign, but as a temple of learning. The construction of the Great Pyramid, it is said, required a knowledge of all of the known sciences of the period. Its building entailed a mastery of mathematics, physics, and a considerable understanding of those fundamentals of astronomy recognized today.

Since the Rosicrusians, it is said, trace their traditional origin back to Amenotep IV, Pharaoh of Egypt in 1350 B.C., and historically known as the first great personality in history, they commemorate their ancient origin by the ritualistic construction of a miniature pyramid. The laying of each stone represents to them the cultural accomplishments of the Order during each year of its existence. The apex will be placed upon a miniature pyramid at a future time when the ideals of the Rosicrusians movement have been realized.

The outdoor fete and ceremony will be locally enacted at Foresters Court, Bernhardstraat N<sup>o</sup> 320, at 5.00 p.m. The public is cordially invited to witness the ritual and participate in the fete.

The periodical, that Rogers triumphantly waves is a copy "Die Kriegsmarine" of 1941. And there is a long story in it about a naval-officer, Siegfried Böll, commander of a submarine, that was sunk about that time. But that Mr. Böll shows very much likeness to... Mr. Harries. "That's a puzzling case", Major Ross says.

"How in the world that fellow can turn up here? Could he and his crew have disappeared on command? Well, we'll find out." Willy and Margu would like to make a story about the tunnel-construction and they decide to go to the Ryff-mountains to try and find the entrance on the land-side. Ross warns the girls and tells them to be careful, for they will have to do with dangerous opponents but they insist on going. "And you, Rob, you will muster on the 'Carl Vinnen'". "But that's impossible", Rob exclaims Harries and Larry will recognize me at once!"
